DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY

Conference invitation – Call for papers

The Department of Theology of the National Association of PhD Students (Hungary), follows the tradition of the previous years and organizes its 8th conference in 2018. The Conference of Junior Theologians and Doctoral Students will be organized on 9-11 February 2018 at the Theological College of Pécs (Hungary). We would like to invite wholeheartedly all students who are members of different doctoral schools in theology or other fields if their doctoral research concerns the faith or religious studies respectively. Additionally we are waiting for the application of those master students whose promoter support their presentation. The Theology Department of the National Association of Doctoral Students looks forward to the participation of doctoral students outside of the borders of Hungary, too. Continuing the tradition of previous years, we also would like to express our ecumenical commitment, therefore we encourage the doctoral students and junior researchers of all denominations to apply and participate on our conference. We would like to emphasize that it is the primary concern of the Department of Theology to promote and help the theology training of doctoral students in the scientific milieu. The implementation of this goal has to happen through links that stand above denominations and institutions, creating a stronger connection among those who are working for in the academic world. We believe that the building of connections on international level is the prerequisite of quality work.

Reflecting on the current issues in the academia, we are particularly encouraging interdisciplinary lectures, not neglecting topics that deal with modern challenges of theology and faith.

In this academic year the conference will take place at the renewed building of the Theological College of Pécs (Hungary). The Institution is located at the heart of the one-thousand-years-old diocese of Pécs. Here the participants do not simply have the opportunity to the scientific discussions of the conference but they can also find numerous programs that present the beauties of the city of Pécs and its cultural heritage.
